

HAEMATOLOGY
ASSOCIATION OF IRELAND

HAI Update!

Novartis Fellowship Awards 2022

Novartis Fellowship Awards 2022:

The Haematology Association of Ireland are delighted to announce that Novartis have kindly agreed to continue with the sponsorship of the Novartis/HAI Fellowship Awards for 2022. There are two awards:

Novartis Fellowship Educational Award: The award is intended as seed funding for non-tenured scientists including postdoctoral research fellows, early career scientists, clinical scientists to develop an area of basic or clinical research in a haematology related field in the island of Ireland. The award is open to both academic and hospital employees. All applicants must have a contract of employment for the period of the award. The amount of the Award is €10,000.00

The award is not suitable for post-graduate students studying for a Ph.D or M.D. If you are currently not a member, you can become a member by contacting Sinead on: sinead@sineadcassidy.com).

Novartis Nursing/AHP Career Development Award – This award is intended as seed funding for Nurses/ AHPs in a haematology related field in the island of Ireland. The amount of this award is €3,000 and will only be used for research purposes.

The awards are open to both academic and hospital employees. All applicants must have a contract of employment for the period of the award.

Congratulations to our 2021 Award Winners: Sukraj Dhami, Royal College of Surgeons in Ireland, (RCSI) - Coagulation-Cancer crosstalk; understanding the role of von-Willebrand Factor (vWF) in pancreatic cancer thrombosis and metastasis

Amanda Drury, UCD, Cancer Care in COVID-19: Exploring the Experiences of Haematology Patients and their Family Members

DEADLINE FOR NOVARTIS FELLOWSHIP AWARD APPLICATIONS: FRIDAY 30TH SEPTEMBER 2022 – Click here to download criteria